John,

I'm very sorry that I can't attend the May Meetings this year. I do think the proposals for Carlino and Brounen are very solid and creative. Please record me as strongly in favor of these candidates.

I've known Carlino for decades. He does good work, and he's always been helpful to younger researchers and to graduate students.

Brounen and I are in the middle of several large-scale empirical projects, and we have collaborated on one completed paper. He is a very solid economist and would make regular contributions to the Weimer School. He's also contributed his organizational skills in managing the Rotterdam Conference.

I am not particularly impressed by the other two, but without the benefit of the group discussion, I really don't have a strong opinion.

Thanks for putting this together,

John Q

PS Do you know whether we have officially extended an invitation to Raphael Bostic to join the faculty. It would be a shame not to do this soon!
